Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Saturday 20 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Rain clearing southwards. Thereafter colder than yesterday, showers in north.

Today:
Rain clearing southwards through the morning followed by sunshine and showers. The showers becoming heavy at times over northern Scotland, wintry on hills. Turning colder with strong, gusty northwesterly winds.

Tonight:
A largely dry evening and night in the south with largely clear skies. Frequent often heavy showers across the north, wintry on high ground.

Sunday:
A cold day. Dry and sunny for much of the south. Cloudier at times with showers in the north, wintry on high ground. Showers becoming isolated in the afternoon.

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Mainly dry and a little milder on Monday and Tuesday but a few showers in the north. Turning colder again Wednesday, breezy with rain then showers, wintry on high ground.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.